

Villaz-La Sage (Valais) – 1'742 m. / 5'725 ft.

The Region of Evolène, set in the heart of the southern range of the Swiss Alps along the Italian border, has managed to preserve its original character and traditions in the 21st century.

The area comprising Villaz, La Sage, La Forclaz and Ferpèche is known as “Sur-les-Rocs” (literally “on the rocks”) because these villages were built on a rocky terrace towering 300m above the village of Evolène, the administrative centre of the municipality or commune.

The entire right bank of the river Borgne and its continuation along the dale of Ferpèche up to the foot of the Dent Blanche, known as the Queen of the Alps, is a family holiday paradise where tourism has been gradually and wisely integrated into the traditional economy. The landscape of this "Sur-les-Rocs" area has a unique cultural identity appreciated by painters, musicians and poets as both a place for contemplation and a source of inspiration.

Villaz has 80 inhabitants who essentially live off agriculture and tourism. Why not come and discover Villaz for yourself? Whether you opt for a weekend break or a longer holiday, the Gaudin family offers charming and functional accommodations: holiday apartments, bed and breakfast or Alpine chalets.
